

Windy Monday

Jan walked to school on a windy Monday. As she passed Mr. Green's house, his dog began to bark. The dog's barking scared Jan and she dropped her backpack.

Jan quickly picked up her backpack and ran to school. Exhausted, Jan slid into her desk and reached into her backpack for her homework. It was missing. She had to complete it during recess, but she was not dismayed. She got plenty of exercise on the way to school!
